

RADFORD UNIVERSITY / GLASGOW UNIVERSITY Student Exchange Program

STUDENT PERFORMANCE OPPORTUNITIES at RU

The department of music at Radford University offers numerous opportunities for student performance, including weekly departmental recitals, studio performance classes, the fall and spring honors recitals and master classes by guest artists. There are also many ensembles in which students (both majors and non-majors) may participate. Students may participate in university Symphonic Band, Wind Ensemble, four choral ensembles, chamber orchestra, duos, trios, string quartets, woodwind quintets, brass quintets, guitar ensembles, piano ensembles, percussion ensembles, vocal ensembles and groups that include both instrumentalists and vocalists.

THE CENTER FOR MUSIC TECHNOLOGY at RU

The Center for Music Technology serves as the nucleus for instruction, teacher training, sponsored research, special seminars and concerts involving digital technologies within the Department of Music. The center maintains an array of MIDI-based, computer controlled digital synthesizers and sound processing equipment located in four studios. Computer music courses emphasize innovative and creative use of technology in music composition, performance, music education, music business and music therapy.

RADFORD UNIVERSITY is your connection to the future — a challenging place to connect theory and practice, individual perspective and world view, self and community. We'll equip you with the knowledge and resources necessary to navigate your way through life.

You will find inspiration in Radford's surroundings — the manicured green lawns on campus, the steady roll of the New River, the wonders along the Blue Ridge Parkway, the stately university buildings, the quaint downtown — filled with new adventures, new ideas, new friends and new choices.

For More Information Contact:

Dr Nick Bailey, Centre for Music Technology, Department of Electronics & Electrical Engineering; email n.j.bailey@elec.gla.ac.uk OR

Prof Graham Hair, Department of Music; email graham.hair@virgin.net